

centro linguistico italiano dante alighieri

The school

The Centro Linguistico Italiano Dante Alighieri is a school specialized in teaching Italian language and culture to the foreigners. The school was founded in 1966 and has the authorization of the Italian government. The school is open all year.

Teachers and methods

All our teachers are literature and language subjects graduates and they are all specialized in teaching Italian as a second language. Our method, direct and grammatical, essentially consists of two parts: the first is the explanation and the analysis of the rules and exceptions of Italian grammar, and the second consists of the application and the use of these rules in the spoken and written language in various contexts.

Group Courses “G”

Our language group courses (max. 12/13 students) form a carefully articulated teaching program at various levels, from the beginners’ course up to the one for those wishing to teach Italian abroad. Each level lasts 4 weeks and it is possible to attend the school for any length of time between 2 weeks and 9 months. Each level gradually leads the student to a detailed knowledge of the grammatical and syntactical structure of Italian language. Before entering a higher level, it’s necessary to pass a test.
