Level offered

➤ Beginner

You have never studied French. You wish to acquire basic notions of spoken and written French through communication activities.

➤ A1. Breakthrough

You can understand simple information encountered in everyday situations. You can communicate in a simple way provided the other person talks slowly.

➤ A2. Waystage

You can understand sentences on familiar matters. You can communicate in routine situations and describe in simple terms topics of personal interest.

➤ B1. Threshold

You can understand the main points of clear standard input on familiar matters. You can deal with situations likely to arise while travelling.

You can talk about topics of personal interest and briefly give explanations for opinions and plans.

➤ B2. Vantage

You can understand the main ideas of complex texts. You can take part in conversations and give the advantages and disadvantages on general or professional matters in a clear and detailed way.

➤ C1. Proficiency

You can understand a wide range of long and demanding texts and recognise implicit meaning. You can express yourself fluently in a well-structured way on your social, professional or academic life and on complex topics.

➤ C2. Mastery

You can understand easily almost everything heard or read and summarise everything in a coherent way. You can express yourself very fluently and adapt your expression appropriately to the situation, even on complex topics. You can recognise subtle distinctions of meaning.

Diplôme Initial de Langue Française.

More information, please consult :
<http://www.ciep.fr/dilf/index.php>

The DILF is an official qualification awarded by the French Ministry of Education that recognises a basic level of proficiency in French (level A1.1). It assesses the 4 language skills : listening, reading, speaking and writing or the framework of reference for basic knowledge of French.

The DILF is one of a range of qualifications in French for non-French speakers. It is an initial steps toward the DELF and DALF.
