

Regent Sydney language courses at a glance – 2008

Regent Sydney offers English courses for general, academic or business purposes. Friendly, professional teachers, very effective methods and a dynamic learning environment, all help to improve your English quickly.

As a small school (maximum capacity of 24 students) and small class sizes of maximum 4 participants (8 participants in workshops) the students experience individual attention, guaranteeing rapid progress. Our students come from all over world and make our school multinational. Therefore you have lots of opportunities to practise your English and mix with people and cultures from around the world.

Regent Sydney courses

ClasSIX Programme (General English) and the Executive Group Programme (Business English) consist of 22.5 hours classes per week, i.e. 12.5 hours of group classes with a maximum of 4 participants and 10 hours workshops with a maximum of 8 participants.

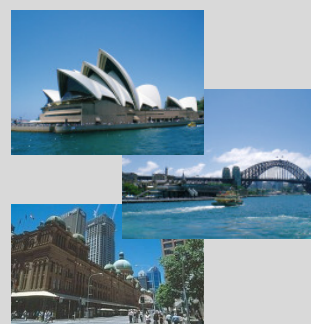

General English courses deal with general English skills, practising English language situations and linguistic areas (grammar, vocabulary, pronunciation, spoken and written communications, presentations, and cultural difference).

Business English courses focus on building business language required for meetings, negotiations and presentations and including business vocabulary, discussion, current affairs and role play.

Regent Sydney

The school is located in the heart of the city across the road from the Queen Victoria Building, within easy walking distance of the Opera House, Harbour Bridge and Darling Harbour.
